

MPH Session 2021: Utah State University and University of Tsukuba

Challenges for sustainable care in public health fields are discussed, while extending and deepening our university network by inviting the speakers from Utah State University, a partner university of University of Tsukuba. This session provides an opportunity to introduce the MPH program of each school and exchange ideas on educational and research activities.

Date & Time

Online by Zoom
September 10, 2021
9:30~11:30 JST

Program

9:30 Opening remarks by Prof. Yukiko Wagatsuma (University of Tsukuba)

9:40

Prof. Maya Miyairi (Utah State University)

"Cross-cultural Comparisons of Body Image
& Eating Disorders between Japan and the United States"

10:00

Prof. Steven R. Hawks (Utah State University)

"A Research and Educational Partnership for Addressing Eating Disorders Among University Students"

10:30

Prof. Nanako Tamiya (University of Tsukuba)

"Health Services Research in Japan as a Super Aging Society"

10:50

Prof. Masahide Kondo (University of Tsukuba)

"Application of Economics for Health at University of Tsukuba"

11:10

Panel Discussion

- Collaborative activities in education and research in public health

11:25

Closing address by Prof. Steven R. Hawks (Utah State University)

