

Tsukuba Global Science Week 2022

AGING SOCIETY AND ELDERLY CARE IN TAIWAN AND JAPAN

Dr. Nai-Ying KO

Dr. Ling-Yi LIN

National Cheng Kung University, Taiwan

Dr. Yumi HASHIZUME

Dr. Tomoko ITO

University of Tsukuba

Date: Thursday, September 29, 2022

16:00-18:00 (Japan)

Zoom Online Session

ID 829 3496 5635 PassCD 577866

Free, No pre-registration required

Zoom ID

Hosted by Doctoral & Master's Program in Nursing Science
Contact: Katsumata & Omiya (kanngojimu@md.tsukuba.ac.jp)

SESSION PROGRAM

Date: Thursday, September 29, 2022

Session Chair

Katsumata Asako T. Prof. U of Tsukuba

16:00~16:30

Social implementation of multi-generational care in Asian emerging countries

Yumi Hashizume, Ph.D., RN, RPHN

Associate Professor, School of Nursing, U of Tsukuba

16:30~17:00

Application of AIoT in long-term care facilities

Nai-Ying Ko, RN, Ph.D.

Director, Distinguished Professor, Department of Nursing, NCKU

17:00~17:30

Could older individuals with autism spectrum disorder benefit from robot-assisted therapy?

Ling-Yi Lin, RN, Ph.D.

Associate Professor, Department of Nursing, NCKU

17:30~18:00

The challenge to build new value in care for older adults –episodes in Japan

Tomoko Ito, RN, RPHN, Ph.D.

Assistant Professor, School of Nursing, U of Tsukuba